Vision of the Department

- The Department of History should fully embrace technology and its potential to enhance learning and research in the pandemic situation. Faculty should be encouraged to use online resources to deliver lectures, organize discussions, and hold office hours. This will ensure that students continue to receive quality education and stay connected with their peers and instructors.
- The pandemic has had a profound impact on the mental health of students and faculty alike. The Department of History should prioritize mental health and well-being by providing access to counseling services, wellness programs, and other resources that can help students and faculty cope with the stress and anxiety associated with the pandemic.
- Our vision is to encourage students to become tech-savvy and comfortable with online learning platforms, have to prepare them for the demands of a rapidly changing digital landscape.
- Our vision is to transform the students into citizens who are critically informed about the past and its consequences for the present.
- Making awareness about the local history of the adjoining college.

SWOC Analysis

A. Strength:

- (i) Our faculty members have shown great dedication and creativity in delivering online lectures, utilizing multimedia resources to enhance learning, and creating engaging online discussions and activities.
- (ii) By using online platforms to deliver lectures and hold office hours, our faculty has been able to provide students with individualized attention and support, even in the face of social distancing and remote learning.
- (iii) Student-teacher good relationship.
- (iv) Team spirit.

B. Weaknesses:

- (i) Low student strengths.
- (ii) The pandemic has had a significant impact on mental health and wellbeing, which can make it difficult for students and faculty to stay focused and motivated, and can impact the quality of teaching and learning.
- (iii) No departmental staff room.
- (iv) Lack of awareness among parents.

C. Opportunities:

- i) Adapt to the New Normal: The pandemic has forced us all to adapt to a new normal. The Department of History should be proactive in adapting to the changing circumstances and finding new ways to deliver high-quality education and research. This may involve rethinking the curriculum, developing new pedagogical approaches, and exploring new research topics that are relevant to the pandemic and its impact on society. By adapting to the new normal, the Department of History can continue to be a vibrant and dynamic academic community that prepares students for the challenges of the future.
- ii) Our students have demonstrated a strong willingness to engage with technology, and have shown remarkable adaptability in navigating the challenges of online learning.

D. Challenges:

- i) Drop out of students
- ii) Lack of awareness among parents.

Future Plan:

- (i) Make aware about NEP 2020 (New Education Policy) to the upcoming students.
- (ii) To organize workshop for the students and faculty about the new upcoming syllabus of history department.
- (iii) To organize seminar among students for awareness about the local history of the adjoining villages, collaboration with INTACH.
- (iv) Enhancing the research activities in collaboration with other departments and institutions.
- (v) Addition of Postgraduate program to the UG department.
